INTRODUCTION

The Travis County Resource Guide was created for the benefit of those in need of information regarding resources that are available to Travis County formerly incarcerated persons and their families during the reentry process after incarceration. Travis County does not endorse any of the listed entries; they are to be used as a listing of available services. Some listings may only be available to family members but not the formerly incarcerated person.

The Resource Guide is updated quarterly. Although every effort is made to ensure the accuracy of the services, service provides listings may change between each quarterly update and distribution. We welcome your comments, updates or deletions. Please contact Cynthia.Finnegan@co.travis.tx.us. or write:

COMMUNITY VOICE MAIL

Community Voice Mail (CVM) provides free voice mail to community members who do not have access to a telephone with voice message capabilities. It is a free service for people who have a case manager. The Austin Community Voice Mail program is part of the national network of CVM sites, empowering people in crisis and transition by distributing free 24-hour voice mail nationwide – directly linking individuals to jobs, housing, safety and stability.

Users receive a personal phone number (with a 512 area code) and create their own personal greeting. They have the ability to retrieve/receive their own messages 24 hours a day from any landline phone. Only the user will be able to hear messages. The system sounds like a regular phone with voice mail capacity.

Community Voice Mail users most often seek jobs, housing, safety from domestic abuse and healthcare. Users include homeless individuals, job-seekers, low-income families with children, people fleeing abuse, veterans, senior citizens, runaways and more. CMV helps people feel empowered and in control of their lives.

The Austin Travis County MHMR Center partners with other agencies around Austin to provide access to CVM. Other agencies include:

- AIDS Services of Austin
- Any Baby Can
- Austin/Travis County Health and Human Services Department Healthy Neighborhood Unit
