The Travis County Sheriff’s Office Is Moving

The Administrative Offices of the Travis County Sheriff’s Office will have a new home effective June 11, 2007. That is the plan. In order to make that plan happen the Sheriff’s Office will shut its doors at the Criminal Justice Center on June 8th and start the move to their new office at the Keith George Ruiz Building, 5555 Airport Blvd., right next door to the Travis County Tax Office. All telephone numbers will remain the same, only the address will change. The Keith George Ruiz Building will also be the new home of the Travis County Fire Marshal’s Office.

To be on the safe side planners are telling everyone to please be patient and expect some disruption of the administrative functions, of the Sheriff’s Office, from June 7th through the 13th. Dispatch, Patrol and Jail functions will not be affected by the move.

The Sheriff’s Administrative Offices and the Central Command, which includes Major Crimes Detectives, Internal Affairs, Sex Offender Registration, Intelligence Unit and the Personnel Office, will be housed in the remodeled furniture building. The Central Warrants and Central Records Offices will stay at the Criminal Justice Complex.

Once everyone has had a chance to move in and get acclimated to the new building an open house will be planned.
