Sheriff Announces New TCSO Web Site With Added Features

Sheriff Greg Hamilton announces the launch of his newly redesigned Web site today; touting its user-friendliness and two new features he said will soon become the site's most often accessed pages.

“For quite a while now, I have not been satisfied with the amount of content on the www.tcsheriff.org web site,” Sheriff Hamilton said. “I love the site's new design and am thrilled that it is so easy to now find information about the Sheriff's Office with just a few clicks.”

The new Warrants On Web is an easy-to-use public search tool that accesses Travis County outstanding warrants information. Users may search by case number, or last name and date of birth.

The site's new Inmate Search function allows visitors to input a first and/or last name to find out where they are in custody and whether they have been released. Inmate Search is updated every 15 minutes.

“With Warrants On Web and Inmate Search, Travis County residents can find vital information they might need at home or in the workplace regarding new neighbors, employees or businesses. I encourage folks to go check out the new Web site and let me know what they think,” Sheriff Hamilton said.

Expanded information for Administration & Support, Corrections and Law Enforcement bureaus, as well as a Citizen Survey to interactively submit information to us on how the Sheriff's Office is serving the citizens of Travis County, is also included in the site.
